California State Assembly

ALEX LEE

ASSEMBLYMEMBER, TWENTY-FOURTH DISTRICT

Dear Kids:

Ever wonder how a law is made? If you ever thought that there ought to be a law to change things for the better, then you are in for a treat. The following coloring book shows you how a bill can become a new law.

Every year hundreds of ideas to change existing laws or add new laws are presented in the State Legislature. These ideas are written on a paper that is then called a "bill." Not all bills automatically become new laws. Bills need to be debated and voted on by your state representatives – Assemblymembers and Senators. If a bill passes through all its committees, the Senate, the Assembly and is signed by the Governor, then it becomes a new law.

To learn more, just follow your host "Bill." He comes up with a fun idea, makes it into a bill and moves it through the Legislature.

Good luck and have fun learning about turning a good idea into a new law.

For more information, please contact me at (408) 262-2501.

Sincerely,

ALEX LEE

Hey Kids!
I'm Bill – your guide through the maze of California government.
Today I'm going to show you how new laws are made.

Two

branches of government are involved in making a new law: the Legislative Branch (the Senate and Assembly) and the Executive Branch (the Governor). The Senate has 40 Senators, and the Assembly has 80 Assemblymembers.

Each Senator and Assemblymember gets to vote on bills.

Each Senator and Assemblymember represents a different part of California (called a district). The part of California you live in (your district) is represented by one Senator and one Assemblymember. Besides voting on bills, your Senator and Assemblymember can help people in their districts with problems they may be having.

An Assembly committee is a small group of Assemblymembers. Committees hold public hearings where anyone can come and discuss a bill. There are many committees, each discussing bills on specific subjects — for example, one committee will discuss bills about cars and one committee will discuss bills about doctor visits. A bill could also be discussed by more than one committee.

After a bill is discussed at a hearing, the committee members vote on whether it would be a good law. If the majority of the committee's members like the bill, they pass it and send it to the full Assembly for another vote.

Guess what? The committee liked the school nutrition bill.
AB 101 has passed!
